

The image features a large, stylized, dark green letter 'S' that curves from the top left towards the bottom center. A diagonal band with a fine grid pattern cuts across the 'S'. Several thin, curved black lines sweep across the page, some intersecting the 'S'. Three solid dark green circles are positioned along one of these curved lines. In the bottom right corner, the text 'ravellings' and '1954' is written in a cursive, handwritten style, enclosed within a partial circular frame.

RAVELINGS 1954

Chester Township High School North Manchester, Indiana

Dear Students,

Did you ever try to read a composition without punctuation marks? Wasn't easy, was it? It was difficult to get the meaning, wasn't it? But, place a few punctuation marks here and there in appropriate places and the meaning comes to life. Funny what a difference a few little crooked marks or dots can make, isn't it?

In the pages that follow you will get a few glimpses into the composition of life at Chester High School--your life and mine. Where shall we put the punctuation marks to give this composition the most meaning?

Let's begin with the question mark. Who is it that is always asking questions? The faculty, of course. The question mark indicates quizzes, quandaries, and queries and doesn't the faculty have plenty of all of them?

When you see an exclamation point you think of excitement. What could be more exciting than a red-hot basketball game!!! So look beyond the exclamation point for some candid shots of Chester in action on the basketball floor, the baseball diamond, and the track.

When you see a pair of parentheses you think of something that has been added--something extra. So, in the parentheses section, you will find some of those extra things that add sparkle to the routine of everyday class work.

Then there are the commas. Commas indicate pauses. In the comma section you will find those things which we pause to do from day to day which makes each of us different from our fellow-students.

At the end of a composition, we usually find a period. So it is with this year's Ravelings. The seniors have finished their high school careers and are fittingly represented by the period. Just a dot--that's all.

So, our high school career and our senior year in particular boils down to a simple composition which we have tried to punctuate. As you will help us as you examine the pages of our book. What was a period to us may have been an exclamation point to you.

All who write the high school composition after us, we wish you () and !

Mr. Smith

Faculty

Dear Students and Friends of Chester Township High School:

As you peruse the pages of the 1954 Ravelings, I hope that you will recall the pleasant memories of your own school days at Chester or wherever you may have gone to school. Or, perhaps you are now in school! If so, I hope that this book may inspire you to greater success in your own school experiences.

Advisory Board

The Advisory Board in Chester Township consists of Mr. George Harshman, Mr. Clarence Schilling, and Mr. Robert Beery. These men together with the Trustee are responsible for the many fine advantages that we at Chester enjoy. Our thanks go to them.

County Superintendent

Mr. C. L. Vandegrift, B.S., Manchester College; M.S., Indiana University. For his personal interest in our school and its advancement, the Class of 1954 wishes to extend to Mr. Vandegrift its heartfelt thanks.

Trustee

Mr. Ulmer is completing his eighth and final year as trustee of Chester Township. As he leaves this field of service, the Class of '54 wishes to express its appreciation to him for all the contributions he has made for the betterment of our school and feels sure that he will continue to be with us in his capacity as a citizen.

School Clerk

For eleven years, Mrs. Yentes has been writing slips and passes and listening to our excuses. We wonder if she ever hears a new excuse. Good luck, Maxine.

Principal

Mr. Smith has been principal at Chester for ten years. During that time the students have learned to know him as a friendly counselor with a world of patient understanding. We wish him continued success.

Chester Chatter in Production

Students at Chester were kept well informed on this year's news and views through the school paper, Chester Chatter.

This bi-weekly newspaper was the main project of the advanced typing class. Assistants were the class and club reporters who were kept busy writing news every other week.

The capable leadership of Mrs. Amiss, Mr. Dilling, and the Chatter officers made this a successful year. We are proud to say it was a job well done.

"WE SHOOK THE FAMILY TREE"

Hildegard is desperately anxious for an attractive senior boy to ask her to the big school dance. She tries everything but nothing works. Finally, mother gets her a date with Freddie, the only boy in school who wears knickers. He's a swell guy, but those short pants make him the joke of the school. She pleads with father to let her break the date but father says, "No!" To make matters worse Hildegard has given the little neighbor girl father's love letters to put in mail boxes. That settles it.

Junior Play

"MEET CORLISS ARCHER"

Corliss, so bored she could scream, feel everyone is in a rut, especially her boyfriend, Dexter. Corliss decides to make up a fake diary, not her actual dull life, but an imaginary existence that would curl anyone's hair. Her temperate father becomes a raving alcoholic and a wife beater. Dexter becomes a juvenile delinquent. Snoopy Cousin Agnes comes for a visit. Cousin Agnes doesn't miss a trick — so she reads the fake diary. Now the fur flies.

Sports

Dear Students;

I, your coach, wish to express my appreciation to all students who participated in sports as players or fans and contributed so much time, energy, extra work, and enthusiasm to make our athletic program possible. What success we have had has been the result of co-operation of all who have participated or helped.

It doesn't matter if we have won or lost; it does matter how we played the game. May this Annual give you many happy memories. I wish the best of luck to all of you.

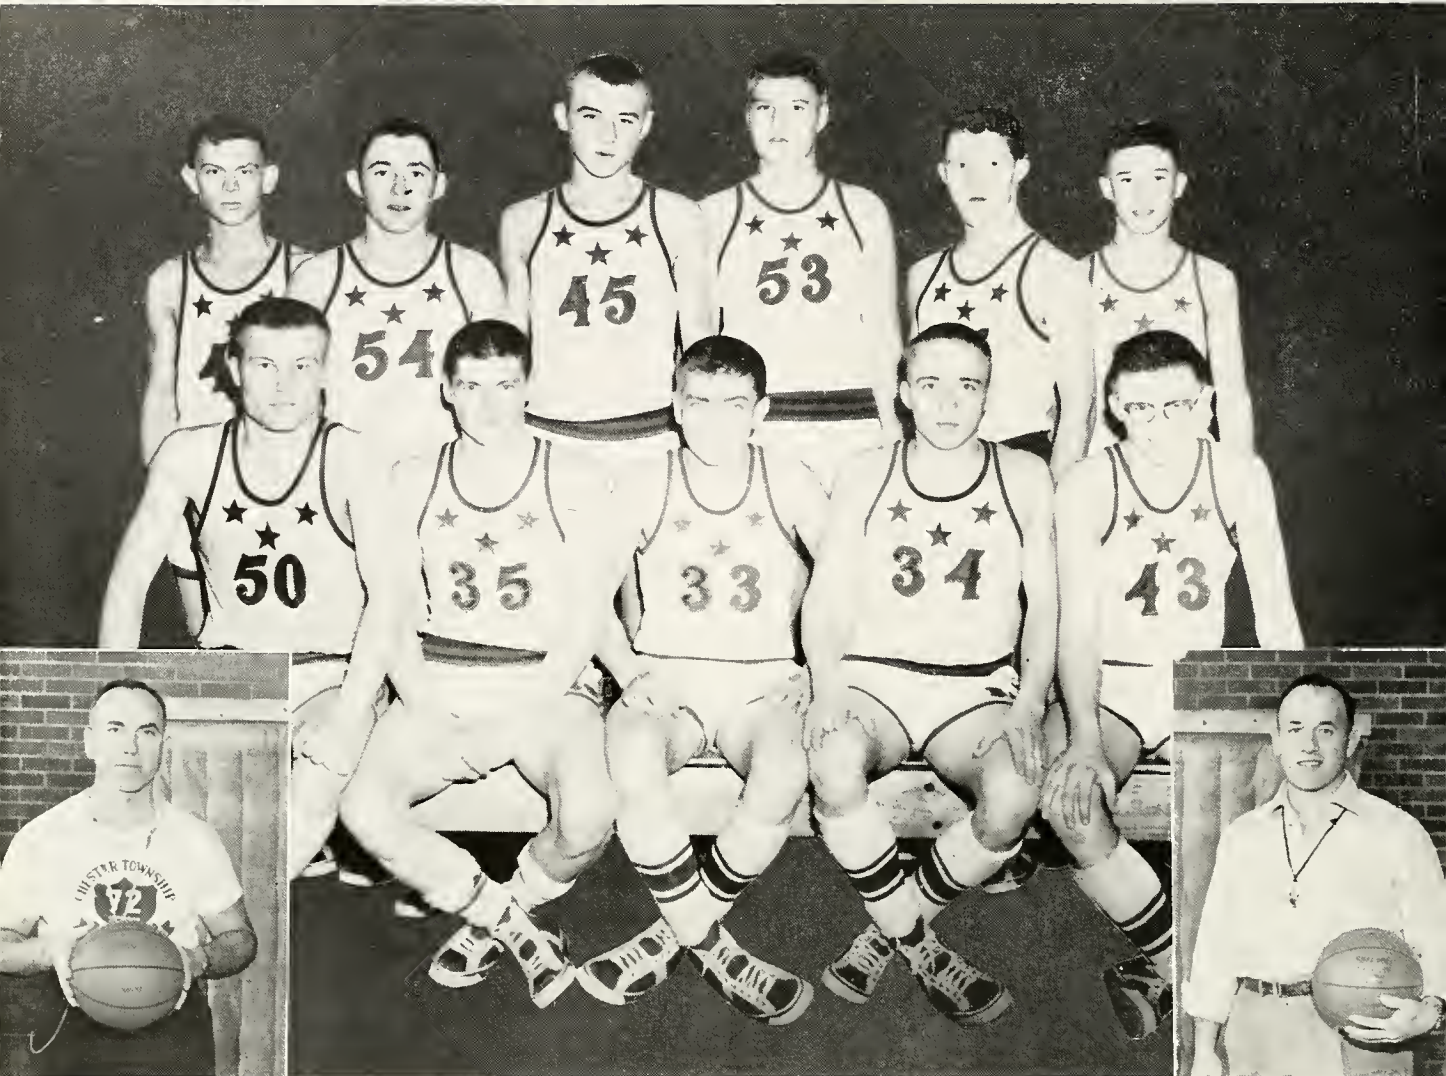

Sincerely,
Doe Faudree

Basket Ball 1953-1954

Including tourneys, the basketball team of '53-'54 won 15 and lost 7. This is the school's best record for several years. The highlight of the year was winning the 4-way Tourney at Manchester College. Eight of the members of the team were seniors, and consequently, Coach "Doe" is forced with a tremendous rebuilding program. The seniors wish the best of luck to the Panther teams of the future.

At all the ball games, Doe and the boys always had at their side a man deeply devoted to our school and its program. This man is Dr. Floyd Walters, counselor, trainer, and friend. All the seniors will miss Doc very much.

The four student managers, Bob Messer, Richard Purdy, Max Frye, and Jerry Purdy, not only packed the suits, kept the shots, and rebounds, but also furnished high class musical entertainment for the team.

Classes

Dear Students,

From quotation marks to periods
— from first grade to graduation
— so goes our school life.

In past years we seniors were fortunate enough to have been able to set some records of which we are very proud. These records will serve as a challenge to future senior classes.

May the highest success reward the efforts of each succeeding senior class at Chester.

Sincerely,
Jim Baker

In September, 1950, forty-two freshmen made their appearance in high school. The class had a skating party at Warsaw under the sponsorship of Mr. Gerold Faudree and Mr. Dilling. The class elected as their officers the following people: Diane Landis, president; Don Brown, vice-president; Phyllis Bechtold, secretary; Max Frye, treasurer; and Norma Colclessor, reporter.

The following year thirty-six ambitious looking sophomores entered Chester. During that year we enjoyed a bowling party held at Warsaw. The class chose as their officers the following students: Phyllis Bechtold, president; Ronnie Kreider, vice-president; Julia Pottenger, secretary; Beverly Schroll, treasurer; and Myrtle Rowe, reporter. Our sponsors were Mrs. Lytle and Mr. Scribner.

In 1952, thirty-nine juniors entered school looking forward to the many activities that take place during the junior year. Among these many activities there were our class rings, class parties, selling at the ball games, and our fish fry on which we all worked together and made a big success. Then came our biggest event of the year, our class play, "Beauty and the Beef." Our sponsors for that year were Mrs. Van Camp and Mr. Mertz. The class elected as their officers for that year the following: Jim Baker, president; Ronnie Kreider, vice-president; Diane Landis, secretary; Pat Burris, treasurer; and Patsy Walgamuth, reporter.

In September, 1953, thirty-six hard striving students trudged wearily into Chester to end their high school years and make up the class of 1954. Through determination and lots of hard work new records were set. Our magazine sales was our biggest money making project of all our high school activities. Behind the curtains, a third of which was our share towards a gift for the school, was produced the great play, "We Shook The Family Tree," which was presented to the public on October 18, 1953. Our officers were Jim Baker, president; Jay Schilling, vice-president; Marilyn Flora, secretary; Diane Landis, treasurer; and Alice Alexander, reporter. In January the Seniors began striving for a great RAVELINGS, under the direction of Mrs. Van Camp and Mr. Smith. Our trip, our baccalaureate and our commencement ended an eventful year.

Last Will and Testament

To the Juniors, the Class of "54" wills especially to you our ability in teamwork and good salesmanship.

To the Sophomores, the Class of "54" wills especially to you enough spot remover to remove all your green spots.

To the Freshies, the Class of "54" wills especially to you a pair of green stilts so you will stand up and take notice.

To the Faculty, the Class of "54" wills the new stage curtains to wipe their tear-filled eyes at our graduation.

I, Alice Alexander, will my position in the band to Sharon Myers, and my position as Editor-in-Chief of the Chester Chatter to a blonde so the gray hairs won't show.

I, Aileene Allen, will and bequeath to the underclassmen of Chester High much success and happiness, and to the class of "55" the best of luck during their senior year.

I, Jim Baker, will my ability not to get excited at a basketball game to Roman Westafer, who I am sure can use it.

I, Marilee Baker, will my ability not to type to someone who isn't taking typing and my seat in the study hall to anyone who can stay out of meanness.

I, Phyllis Bechtold, will some of my hair to "Leck" since he needs some, my height to Joan Landis, and my cheerleading ability to my little sister, "Mickey".

I, Dick Bechtold, will the fun of all my school years to the oncoming children.

I, Kay Bonam, will my height to Mrs. VanCamp.

I, Don Brown, will my beautiful "37" Plymouth to "Doc" Hammond and Roman Westafer who like to drive it.

I, Gerry Coblentz, will my position in the Sax Quartet to Janene Myers, and my seat in psychology to anyone who can put up with a class of 16 boys.

I, Dean Cox, will my "Ford" to Donald R. Lefforge if he thinks he can stand the rattles, and my ability to run out of gas to anyone who likes to walk.

I, Marilyn Flora, will my ability to go steady to some of these dreamy and wishful girls around school, and my ability to twirl to the future majorettes.

I, Max Frye, will my ability to keep the bench warm for the second team three years to Dan Hammond.

I, Ann Helvey, will my ability to graduate to my brother, Tom, and my black hair to Pat Flora.

I, Clarence Houser, will my haircut to "Doc" Hoover and my seat in government class to anybody who wants it; what I have left, I will take with me.

I, Bob Keaffaber, will my ability to study and keep out of trouble to a certain sophomore girl; she might need it.

I, Bob Kline, will my Ford to anyone who can keep it running.

I, Ronnie Kreider, will my ability to get C's and D's in chemistry to anyone who thinks he needs it.

I, Diane Landis, will my ability to will a will to someone who doesn't have the ability to will a will if he or she is willing to will a will.

I Michael E. Leckrone, being of sound mind (?) do hereby will and bequeath my entire fortune to that great benefactor of the human race, Robert Leroy Mertz.

I, Carol Marshall, will my thick hair to Mr. Smith, and my chair in band to Frieda Allen.

I, Robert Messer, will my student manager position to anyone who would like the job as well as I did.

I, John Morrissey, will my duckbill haircut to Eugene Davis, since he needs it.

I, Julia Pottenger, will my ability to get the car to Gene Heeter so he won't have to walk to Kay's house.

I, Jerry Purdy, will my "40" Plymouth to anyone who can keep oil in it for one week.

I, Richard Purdy, will my ability to keep the number of rebounds at an exciting ball game to anyone who thinks he can do it.

I, Dewayne Ritenour, will my ability to cook a good meal in home economics to any girl who might need it.

I, Dewight Ritenour, will my ability to get A's in government to Darrell Graffis.

I, Frank Rowe, will my ability to stay out of trouble to anyone who needs it.

I, Myrtle Rowe, will my ability to play the guitar to Pat Leckrone, my seat in the study hall to anyone who can keep Noel Yordy good company, and my cheerleading ability to that up-and-coming varsity cheerleader, Ann Keaffaber.

I, Jay Schilling, will my ability to be always in a hurry to Gene Heeter.

I, Beverly Schroll, will my chair in band to anyone who can keep Judy Leonhard company and my ability to take teasing from Ida Van Camp to anyone who needs it. The rest I'm taking with me.

I, Dick Shanahan, will my red hair to my cousin, Jim Shanahan; he could stand a change.

I, Phil Snavelly, will my ability to keep on the road to Todd Hathaway.

I, Don Vance, will my glasses to anyone who thinks he can read the twelfth grade government book.

I, Pat Walgamuth, will my ability to chew gum in shorthand class to anyone who can get away with it. Also my ability to type to anyone who needs it.

I, Beulah Young, will my ability to take home economics to every girl in the school, and my ability to get the car whenever I want it to my sister, Dora.

Prophecy

A Day in the Life of Jason Smith

It was 1974 and Mr. Jason Smith arose from bed to start a completely average day. In fact, it was such an "average" day that Mr. Smith didn't stop to think that everything he did during the day was worked around some members of the glorious Chester Class of 1954.

However, let us follow Mr. Smith and observe how this class affects his life.

First, Mr. Smith was prepared a huge breakfast by his maid, Alice Alexander. Alice had married and proved to be a very good housewife. He was also served a huge glass of milk contributed by the Jerry Purdy Milk Hauling Company.

After breakfast Mr. Smith jumped into his new Ford, designed by Dean Cox (incidentally, Dean was married and had four children) and went down to the Brown & Baker Super Service Station to fill up with gas. As Mr. Smith continued down the highway he became involved in a traffic jam, caused by Marilyn and Ronnie Zimpelman's huge house trailer. The Zimpelman's were moving to a different army base.

Upon arrival at school Mr. Smith began his normal work. His first official act was to discipline the young children of Mrs. Beverly (Schroll) Slack and then he was able to attend to the other business at hand.

Now the first task that confronted him was the planning of the Chester Twp. football schedule. He made these arrangements through the aid of Mrs. Aileene (Allen) Baumgardner, wife of the famous football coach. It was then necessary for him to review the new chemistry textbook written by Bob Messer, Bob Keaffaber and Dewight Ritenour. The first two authors were both from Purdue University while Ritenour was a professor at Ball State.

When Mr. Smith completed the book review it was about 11:45 so he decided to go down to dinner with the fourth period study hall. Although he didn't realize it, he had three members of the Class of '54 to thank for his dinner. His beefsteak was furnished from the Alabama farm of Dick Bechtold (Dick began raising cows on a cotton farm in order to come up with softer meat); his vegetables came from the Snavely Truck Farm (formerly the Grossnickle Truck Farm); and his eggs were hand-picked from the Rhode Island Farm of Beulah Young.

After dinner Mr. Smith found it necessary to interview two girls to replace his former secretary, Diane Landis. Diane left her job at Chester to become bookkeeper for the R. Kreider Corporation of Liberty Mills. However, he soon discovered that he knew both of the applicants.

One was Patsy Walgamuth Geist (formerly of Geist & Sons Corporation) and Gerry Coblentz (formerly of Coblentz & Sons Store in Liberty Mills).

Another job on Mr. Smith's schedule was to engage speakers for the Wednesday Convocation programs. Therefore he contacted many famous people such as: Reverend Richard Purdy of Dallas, Texas, (known as the preaching Texan), Dick Shanahan, the National Rodeo Champion, and Myrtle Rowe, star pitcher for the Fort Wayne Daisies. He also arranged for Admiral M. W. Frye of the U. S. Navy to give his lecture entitled "My Voyage Down Eel River."

Immediately after school, Mr. Smith took Mrs. Smith down town shopping. Their first stop was a dress shop owned by Marilee Baker and managed by Kay Bonam. Next they went to Morrissey's Men's Store (formerly Oppenheims) and were waited on by salesman Bob Kline. While in the store Mr. Smith ran into his old pupil, Clarence Houser, who had married Janet and was living in Luther, Indiana.

Mrs. Smith then decided to go to the Anna Helvey and Carol Marshall Beauty Shop Incorporated, so Mr. Smith drove over to Laketon to have his hair cut (?) at the Don Vance Barber Shop.

With all the beauty operations completed, Mr. Smith discovered that he still had two more errands. The first one was buying some new equipment for the Chester Agriculture class from Dewayne Ritenour, the manager of the New Farm Store in Tunker, and his final duty was to buy railroad tickets for the class of '74 to go to Washington.

As he purchased the tickets from the agent, Frank Rowe of the Pennsylvania Railroad, he explained that he was anxious for the class to observe how Jay Schilling was getting along in his new job as President of the United States.

Finally, after supper Mr. Smith turned to his only relaxation of the day. He turned on the radio and sat back to listen to Mike Leckrone direct his world famous band. It seems that Mike and his wife (the former Phyllis Bechtold) had formed this band from their own children. (They had 14 boys and 12 girls.)

Nevertheless, Mr. Smith's busy day didn't seem to agree with him and he became rather ill. However, the Class of '54 was still in there pitching, because who should nurse him back to health but Julia Pottenger, R.N.!

This just goes to prove the old adage, "You can't keep a good class down."

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

The Class of 1954 expresses its appreciation to:

The business and professional people who have so generously supported our efforts in this book, Ravelings for 1954; to the Chester students, faculty, parents, and school officials who give such wonderful support to the projects of the school; and to all the friends of the school who assure the success of the many and varied activities in which the school engages.

To Mr. Hazlett of the Cron Studio for his kindnesses in going far beyond the call of duty in helping to make Ravelings for 1954 successful.

To Mr. Broom for his very special personal interest in the success of our book.

To the Ft. Wayne Engraving Company for the many courtesies extended.

To the Earl W. Hamer Printing Company for continued interest in our printing problems.

To the Heckman Bindery for courtesies in binding and cover work.

To all who have helped in any way in achieving success in our efforts in Chester High School.
